naji al ali grew up in the palestinian refugee camp of ain al hilweh in the south lebanese city of sidon where his gift for drawing was discovered by the palestinian poet ghassan kanafani in the late 1950s early the following decade he left for kuwait embarking on a thirty year career that would see his cartoons published daily in newspapers from cairo to beirut london to paris resolutely independent and unaligned to any political party naji al ali strove to speak to and for the ordinary arab people the pointed satire of his stark symbolic cartoons brought him widespread renown through his most celebrated creation the witness child handala al ali criticized the brutality of israeli occupation the venality and corruption of the regimes in the region and the suffering of the palestinian people earning him many powerful enemies and the soubriquet the palestinian malcolm x for the first time in book form a child in palestine presents the work of one of the arab world s greatest cartoonists revered throughout the region for his outspokenness honesty and humanity that was when the character handala was born the young barefoot handala was a symbol of my childhood he was the age i was when i had left palestine and in a sense i am still that age today and i feel that i can recall and sense every bush every stone every house and every tree i passed when i was a child in palestine the character of handala was a sort of icon that protected my soul from falling whenever i felt sluggish or i was ignoring my duty that child was like a splash of fresh water on my forehead bringing me to attention and keeping me from error and loss he was the arrow of the compass pointing steadily towards palestine not just palestine in geographical terms but palestine in its humanitarian sense the symbol of a just cause whether it is located in egypt vietnam or south africa naji al ali in conversation with radwa ashour the nakba not only resulted in the loss of the homeland but also caused the dispersal and ruin of entire palestinian communities even though the term nakba refers to a singular historic event the consequence of 1948 has symptomatically become part of palestinian identity and the element that demarcates who the palestinian is palestinian exile and loss have evolved into cultural symbols that at once help define the person and allow the person to remember the loss although accounts of the palestinians experience of the expulsion from the land are similar the emblems that provoke these particular memories differ certain mementos memories or objects help in commemorating the homeland this book looks at the icons narratives and symbols that have become synonymous with palestinian identity and culture and which have in the absence of a homeland become a source of memory it discusses how these icons have come into being and how they have evolved into sites of power which help to keep the story and identity of the palestinians alive the book looks at examples from palestinian caricature film literature poetry and painting to see how these works ignite memories of the homeland and help to reinforce the diasporic identity it also argues that the creators of these narratives or emblems have themselves become cultural icons within the collective palestinian recollection by introducing the nakba as a lived experience this book will appeal to students and scholars of middle east studies cultural studies literature and media studies this book is the first anthropological study of suicide in the arab world today it discusses the effects of life under israeli occupation on the mental health of young palestinians using selected case studies of men and women who have attempted suicide in the west bank above all in the city of ramallah but also in jenin the book is not about martyrs or those who gain so much media attention by dying for a holy cause rather it concerns those who wish to die for entirely private reasons contrary to what might be expected fatal suicide levels in palestinian society remain low compared with western norms despite the many stress factors that have been shown to contribute to suicidal behavior in the west including unemployment and social deprivation in particular suicide is found to be contrary to the concept of palestinian identity of a people under siege for whom resistance is paramount rather than giving in to depression or despair above all nadia dabbagh s findings confirm the importance of what she calls the ripple effects of war her research was carried out after the first intifada during a so called peace building period but it clearly reveals the trauma suffered by palestinians living in the occupied territories the stories she tells mirror the disillusionment of those who had hoped that their lives would improve once fighting subsided and the palestinian national authority had been established the book aims to foster an understanding of suicide in the islamic world more generally looking at current and historical attitudes to death and self killing in islamic and arab thought the distinction between suicide and martyrdom is explored in detail as are current perceptions of these phenomena in the muslim world book jacket
